LABOR IN THE PULPITS

Employee Free Choice Act • Health Care • Wage Theft • Immigration Reform

For more than a decade, Interfaith Worker Justice's Labor in the Pulpits program has honored the covenant of faith, work and social justice. The program has brought religious leaders, union members and worker justice advocates together in a sacred alliance that has served to build cooperation and understanding.

2009 will be a pivotal year, one in which we work to pass historic legislation and public policies that will improve the lives of working families in these times of economic turmoil.

We invite you to join us on Labor Day weekend to pray, reflect and celebrate the work of unions, religious leaders and social justice advocates.
